Here's Real Money for the Homliest Mutt in Town

Decorated

HEY, Skin-nay! Got your dorg?

Better put 'im on a rope or somethin'.

Big show on the vacant lot down on Waco. Lotta prizes 'n' everything.

Sure, dog days are coming.

But, so is dogs' day.

Lowly mongrels that have existed hitherto without slightest recognition, may turn up their noses at their more socially elite brothers—the thoroughbreds and those with pedigree—on Centennial day, July 4, as they are mounted upon the pedestal of fame.

It's to be a dog show with reverse

English. Swell canines with lion's mane, the petite animal that radiates perfume, and the chubby, sleek Boston screw tail—all are barred.

Seraggy curs, patches of mange in evidence, the insignificant black and tan, and just plain dog, so long as he is sufficiently boon companion of some Port Arthur youth who not yet has passed his fifteenth summer, will walk off with the big money in this event.

There's no limit on the kind of brute or the description. Any boy can bring in a dog, but he must be on a leash. The uglier and the more no account he appears, the greater his chances for walking off with prize skekels.

Gene Gifford will be big boss of the show. He has picked Albert Perkins, Dr. S. G. Ellis and G. H. Eubank to pay out the awards.

To the tallest dog will be given $5.

To the heaviest dog, $5.

To the lightest dog (in weight), $5.

dog, $5.

And, last but not least, to the ugliest

dog, $5.

BREAKS RECORDFaster Time Made Than by Any Merchant ShipABOARD STEAMSHIP LEVI-ATHAN (By wireless to the United Press), June 23.—The American flag is being carried through the waters of the Atlantic aboard the reconditioned Leviathan today, faster than any merchant steamship has ever traveled before.

33.71 Miles An Hour

The record of the British speed liner Mauretania was broken when the new American passenger ship reached a maximum Friday of 28.94 knots.The ship averaged for 12 hours Friday was 27.94 knots. The same speed was maintained this morning and prospects are that she may average 28 knots for the 24 hours.Elated American ship building experts are going without sleep to watch the battle against other records previously held by German and British vessels.

Beating the World

"For fifteen years we have wanted to beat the British and Germans on the seas," W. F. Gibbs, supervising architect in the reconditioning work, said this morning. "Now we are reaping the fruits of our labor."Chairman A. D. Lusk of the shipping board, revealed in a speech to the passengers Friday night that thereconditioning for speed had long been planned and kept secret. Weeks ago it was known the ship would test down the previous records, he said.
Groups of passengers throng about the bulletin board for the announcement of developments every two hours.
The swiftest heat is forgotten as the race goes on. There is a continuous buzz of comment on the decks.

Lark in Goshens Sunday

Chairman Lark is braving, Gibbs and Captain Herbert Hartley have not slept for 48 hours so that they might devote their continuous attention to the race.Members of the shipping board believe Congress must be prevailed upon to appropriate funds for building two more giant liners like the Leviathan, to make America foremost in speed travel on the ocean. The Leviathan is expected to reach New York Sunday morning.Former premier of France says the earth doesn't turn. Guess Europe will blame this on America.IF YOU

TOGGERY SHOP HERE TOMORROW

Clash With Local Elks on Lakeshore

Local fandom will be given a treat tomorrow afternoon on Lakeshore diamond—the first in several weeks.

The Toggery Shop, rated as the fastest Beaumont semi-pro baseball outfit, will invade the field against the local Elks in what is expected to result in one of the fastest clashes of the year.

The Elks have been playing their best baseball this season, and claim on their lineup the pick of the city's diamond products. Skipper Gunn's club has fallen into a slump the past two games, and tomorrow afternoon, he promises to have them out of that.

The Toggery Shop is bringing to Port Arthur a kind of fast, snappy, that know baseball all the way through. Many of them are veterans of the game and have played professional ball.

It is up against this kind of a "nut to crack" that Skipper Gunn has elected to send his men on their home field, and fandom is expected to turn out in goodly numbers in response.

On the putting green the player and his opponent are about to hole out. The player's ball lies within six inches of the cup and the opponent's ball lies within two feet of the hole. The opponent concedes the putt to himself, knocking his ball away to the edge of the green. Is the player considered to have holed out or must he put his ball into the cup although it is a seemingly sure shot? Is there a penalty attached if the player's caddy should pick up his ball, conceding the putt to his player.

The ball should be holed out on every green. You are not allowed to knock away your ball and consider yourself holed out. If you should knock your ball to the edge of the green you must hole out, playing the ball from where you have knocked it. The knocking the ball away will count you one stroke. If the caddy should pick up your ball before you have holed out, the putt, you must replace the ball and sink it. The penalty for this action will count two strokes, in medal play.

If your ball should be badly cut, due to a slice or a top, and you wish to substitute another for it, will the change be made after you have holed out or can it be done during the play to the hole?

If you consider your ball unfit for play and wish to replace it with another you may do so after telling your opponent.

SAY SUCCESSFUL MEN BOYS' BEST MODELS

CHICAGO, June 23.—The office boy's rule for success is to pick out one of the men above him who is making a big success and to study that man in everything he does. This rule was given to the 220 office boys of Marshall Field & Co. at the firm's boys' week luncheon. Eight executives with terms of service with the house totalling 234 years attended the boys' luncheon. Each of these executives had started with the firm as errand boy.

You boys have the best chance in the world to succeed, said W. S. Clark, superintendent. "Study the men above you. Pick out some successful man and model yourself on his pattern. Office boys have an opportunity that nobody else has to study leading men. You see them with their coats off. You know all their characteristics and methods as no one else has a chance to know them. Get their ways of doing things. The best model for a boy is a successful man."

Dempsey Starts on Long Grind Winding Up Work For July Fourth Battle

GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 23.—With only 11 days remaining before he defends his heavyweight championship against Tommy Gribbons, Jack Dempsey went into the final period of training here today.

In the last week, Dempsey seems to have improved. He is faster on his feet and he is boxing better, but he is still missing more than he ever did when he was getting ready for his other fights.

He gets his straight right over accurately, but his left and right hooks and uppercuts are landing as many times on the shoulders of his sparring partners as they are on the jaw. The champion who doesn't seem to be as effective in close fighting as he used to be.

All kinds of stories are going around that they usually do on the eve of a big heavyweight fight. Some say that the champion is working "under wraps" to influence the betting and that he is doing his real boxing privately. He did that when he was training for the fight against Georges Carpentier.

Others believe that he is out of shape and that he has lost the power, strength and punch that he had when he fought Georges Carpentier.

Some critics say that he is not working enough and that he is too confident. He boxed only seven rounds yesterday and went through four minutes of shadow boxing. Others maintain that he is doing the right thing in not getting too quickly on the edge. His face is rather drawn and thin and it seems that he might be in danger of getting too fat.

Jack Kearns, his manager, has become indignant over the stories that he is not in shape.

"He's as good as he ever was and he will show it on the Fourth," Kearns said.

Kearns is also getting peeved at the managers of the fight.

"There is no head to the whole thing," he said. "The movie contract has not been awarded and no advertising or booking has been started. I'm willing to sell out our end for a song."

The new management of the fight has not made much of an improvement. The preliminaries have not been arranged, the tickets are not selling. No officers or police have been arranged for and the fence has not been completed around the arena. No dressing rooms have been provided for the boys.

The only argument that is being advanced for assurance that the fight will be held is that the promoters have already sunk so much money into the venture that they will have to go through with it.

Newspaper men who have been accepting in good faith the stories handed out from the Shelby office are particularly indignant. It was announced several days ago that 1000 tickets had been sold for the fight in Omaha and from reliable sources it was learned that not 100 seats had been disposed of. Unless a tremendous increase in the sale of tickets comes in the next week it seems almost certain that the champion "bust" fight of the world will be staged in Shelby on the Fourth.

Richards easily took the finals match from S. M. Jacobs of the Indiana Davis cup team 6-2, 6-2.

YALE DEFEATS HARVARD CREW

Old El Sweepers Crimmon Rapidly Aside

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 23.—Ed Leader, former rowing coach of Washington University, was hailed as a new miracle man by eastern rowing critics today, following Yale's overwhelming defeat of Harvard on the Thames Friday.

The Yale crew, coached by Leader, swept down the river winning the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman races—all by wide margins. In the four mile varsity race, contested after 8 p. m., in the presence of a big crowd in private yachts, named along the banks and riding in observation trains, Yale pulled across the finish line six lengths ahead. The victors used the "American stroke" with machine like precision and regularity.

Earlier in the day the Yale freshman crew by four lengths over the two mile course and the Yale junior varsity by five lengths.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

His coat was rusty and his hat out of style, but his nose glowed with a black glow, and his eyes were bright and clear. He stepped into a new Houston grocery yesterday, and greeted the proprietor cordially.

"I'll have to introduce myself," he said. "My name is — and I live next door to the house you have just moved in. Saw you at church Sunday. Our minister also observed you, and after church he says: 'Brother, you must really find out who that intelligent looking stranger is who stepped in so attentively today.' How did you like the sermon?"

"Very well," said the grocer as he picked some funny looking carrots with wings out of a jar.

"Yes, he is a very eloquent and pious man. You have not been in business long in Houston, have you?"

"Three weeks," said the grocer, as he removed the cheese knife from the box to the shelf behind him.

"Our people," said the rusty looking man, are whole-souled and hospitable. There is no welcome too warm for them to extend to a newcomer, and the members of our church in particular are especially friendly towards anyone who drops in to worship with us. You have a nice stock of goods?"

"No, no," said the grocer, turning his back and gazing up at a supply of canned California fruits.

"Only last week now I had quite an altercation with the tradesman I deal with for sending me inferior goods. You have some nice hams I suppose and such staples as coffee and sugar?"

"My wife was over to see your wife this morning, and enjoyed her visit very much. What time does your delivery wagon pass up our street?"

"Say," said the grocer, "I bought out an old stock of groceries here, and put in a lot of new ones. I see your name on the old books charged with $27.10 balance on account. Did you want something more today?"

"No sir," said the rusty man, drawing himself up and glancing through his glasses. "I merely called to extend you a welcome but I see you are not the man I took you to be. I can see the mites in that cheese from the other side of the street, and my wife says your wife is wearing an undershirt made out of an old table cloth. Several of our congregation were speaking of your smelling of today in church, and snoring during the prayers. My wife will return that cup of hard tea brewed at your house this morning just as quick as my last order comes up from the store where we trade. Good morning, sir."

The grocer softly whispered, "There won't anybody play with me" and whittled a little lead out of one of his weights in an absent minded way.

YOU AND I

GAINING
More Americans are being born than are dying. Census figures show that close to 25 babies were born last year for every 1000 population, with only 12 deaths.

That gives us an excess of 11 births a year for each 1000 population. It means that Americans are increasing in numbers nearly 1,200,000 a year without the aid of immigration. At that rate, it won't be many centuries until we have as many people as China.

Nature will kill off the surplus by wars and disease epidemics, if we get too many. Increasing population, when it reaches a certain point, breeds its own destruction.

DEATH
About 1,500,000 Americans will make the journey into the grave and beyond this year, according to latest Census Bureau mortality figures. It's our annual death rate.

That's quite an army. Few of us realize how many funerals there are. It's the end of the road, is death, and we're all traveling toward it fast. Why be as greedy and thoughtless to others as if we were going to be here for all eternity? This would be a better world if we gave more thought to that supposedly unpleasant change called death.

HEREAFTER
Where are the souls of the 1,500,000 Americans who died last year? No doubt about their destination in the minds of millions of good Christians. But the unbelievers are in doubt, troubled as well as uncertain.

After all's said and done, faith is the greatest thing in life—an eternal force, whether faith in our loved ones, in ourselves, or in a life after death. The doubter will not believe, and he will not know how to believe. And, in certainty, they will find some peace shorter than out of sleep compared with the whole ocean. There is a difference, and that's why people who believe the other way are so much happier.

DAM

Enough water to cover Connecticut three feet deep is the storage capacity of the government's irrigation reservoirs in western states.

The good work is going ahead steadily. Excavation during 1922 exceeded a million cubic yards a month. Projects now under way or completed will sprout 70,000 farms up out of the deserts. In his peace activities, Uncle Sam occasionally demonstrates—as in irrigation—potential possibilities of democracy. Our political system is all right, as long as we live up to it.

IMMIGRATION

President Cullen of Colgate university fears race suicide is wiping out the old line Americans. He advances this novel idea: "The fallacy of the melting pot was that we thought environment played so much larger part in life than heredity." The Egyptian civilization fell by the process of virile invaders and race suicide practically eliminating the original people. However, nature has a very inexorable law about the fittest surviving. And every person in America—except the red Indian—is either an immigrant or the descendant of an immigrant. Don't blame immigration for race suicide's penalties.

GOD

Go to an old man for wisdom. Dr. Kaufmann Kohler, veteran rabbi and Hebrew educator, looks us over at the age of 80. He believes that, among the masses, idealism has given way to materialism and opportunism.

"There has been a decrease in religious fervor. The masses have little religion. The fear of God has gone, and with it a belief in a hereafter. We must all believe in a divine providence which leads the human race forward. History is not always a straightforward progress, but often goes in zigzag lines. We must have patience."

Most of our troubles right now are spiritual.

FEAR

Flightless birds and other strange jungle creatures arrive, whole shipload, at New York zoological gardens. They come from islands 800 miles off the coast of Ecuador. Their captors were most impressed with the wild creatures' lack of fear.

There was nothing for them to be afraid of. They had not yet encountered the most dangerous beast, man.

14,000 VICTIMS DEAD

Were you ever in Augusta, Maine? If not, you have certainly heard a lot about this town.

Suppose, when you picked up today's newspaper, you read that the more than 14,000 people who live in Augusta had been killed overnight, every one of them. A sensation? Decidedly. People would talk about it for generations.

Auto traffic accidents in 1922 killed as many Americans as the total population of Augusta—over 14,000.

The auto victims were killed gradually, one by one, about 39 a day. That's why the year's death toll creates less excitement than if the same number of people were killed simultaneously in one community.

If the entire population of Augusta were killed off overnight or in a year, by any means entirely or even partly preventable, there'd be a great public reaction to prevent a recurrence of the catastrophe. Spurred by the disaster, even congress would speed up to pass any necessary measures.

For years the National Safety Council and other organizations have been trying to get established a uniform traffic code, or national traffic code, but without success. Congress isn't enough interested. Neither are the people.

Such a code wouldn't prevent all the auto fatalities. But it would help mightily. Keep this in mind. Back it. Tell your friends.

While we are on the subject, it'd be an excellent thing for every auto driver to keep in mind that the auto in America yearly kills as many people as live in Augusta, Maine.

More than 14,000!

Will your car kill one of this year's 11,000?

Or will you be one of the 11,000 victims?

Drive carefully, remembering that constant and personal caution is the greatest safety device.

Pedestrians should exercise the same alertness in crossing the streets.

Everything you do to help hold down the auto accident toll, protects YOUR life as well as others'. And if we don't check this rapidly growing evil, it'll wind up in a characteristically American reaction of extreme severity.

If indifferent whether you kill some one else, drive recklessly.

"MASSACRED"

Ninety-seven per cent of the Armenian population in Turkey has been wiped out, to date, declares Rev. Dr. G. B. Young, of the Near East relief organization.

At this rate, if you bother to add up the Armenians "massacred" by the Turks in the last 10 years (according to the cables), there must be several millions of them left. Sometimes we wonder if a propagandist invented the adding machine. Why exaggerate an evil that admittedly exists and is atrocious enough without exaggeration?

GROWTH OF CITIES

Official Washington says that seventy-eight cities of the country will have a population of 100,000 or more on July 1 this year. There were sixty-eight in 1920. Flint, a town in Michigan, made the most rapid growth, its estimate being 117,968, which ranks it as sixty-first city in population.

Oklahoma has two of the cities listed as having more than 100,000. Tulsa takes seventy-fifth place with 102,018, while Oklahoma City takes seventy-seventh place with 101,150.

It was just a few years ago that Oklahoma City was given a place on the map, and a few years later, Tulsa found its way into the guide books. Now they are fast growing southwestern centers of finance and industry.

Jacksonville, Florida, is one of the oldest towns in the United States. It is given seventy-eighth place in the new census, with a population of 100,046. Elizabeth is a New Jersey town, and New Jersey is one of the original thirteen colonies. The city itself is as old as the ancient Knickerbocker Dutch. Well, Elizabeth has poked her nose under the wire with a population of 103,947.

Figures speak for themselves or tell their own stories, and the jump of Tulsa into first place in the state of Oklahoma must have placed crepe on the door of the imperial chief of the Oklahoma City boomers.

Not so many years ago Theodore Roosevelt and Jack Abernathy chased wolves and jack rabbits in a wild pasture in Oklahoma. Time rolled on, the pasture disappeared, and the city of Tulsa appeared on the map of the world.

"God makes the country; man makes the town," oil made Tulsa.

INGRATITUDE AS WORST OF SINS

Moderns Likened to Israelites by Rev. Culp

Unbelief is the complementing and undoing sin. Ingratitude is back of this and is the greatest in the category of sins. Jesus Christ is the only remedy for sin.

Such was the thought expressed by Rev. Dr. C. W. Culp in his revival sermon at the First Baptist church Friday night in which he compared the people of today with those who lived with Moses in the wilderness and were bitten by the fiery serpent.

"Ingratitude caused the Israelites to grumble against God and to lose their faith in Him. He punished them but with the same punishment he offered them a means of escape from sin."

"The condition of the bitter Israelites was a type of the condition of present-day sinners, and the brazen serpent, raised on a standard in the wilderness as a means of salvation from the bite of the serpents, is typical of Christ on the Cross as the only cure from the venom of sin."

"No one is good enough without Jesus Christ. But Christ must be accepted in more than historical faith. This faith must be alive, backed by trust and confidence in Him."

"Curs from the bite of the serpents was obtainable only through the individual gazing upon the brazen serpent. So today Christ must be sought by the individual himself. Many a mother's son would be saved if she could do it, but it requires the will of every individual."

With this statement, Rev. Culp asked all present to accept Christ.

One admission was made to the church at the close of the services.

The singing and the music was declared the best of the first week of the revival. Services will be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

BOY, 8, DROWNS IN SHALLOW WATER HOLE

OGDEN, Utah, June 22.—Six-year-old Earl Kinsley died in vain to save the life of his son, Lorin Kinsley, 8 years old, when the latter slipped and fell from a raft in a pond here. Lorin, who had attempted to push the raft from shore, was dead when a passerby attracted by Earl's cries recovered the body from six feet of water.

Rancher Is Drowned In La Junta Stream

LA JUNTA, Colo., June 22.—Word reached here that Lee Bassett, 40 years old, a rancher living in the district known as the Gauders, fifty miles south of here, was drowned Saturday when he attempted to cross the flooded Grape canon on horseback. His body was recovered late Sunday after an all-day search several miles below where he tried to cross the stream. Bassett's horse was also lost.

This Henry Ford Stuff Is New One on Depew

NEW YORK, June 22.—Chauncey M. Depew discusses politics thus: Subject: Gov. Smith—He may not be nominated by the democrats for president, but he has given them a big political problem. His signing of the Mullen-Gage repeal law arouses sentiment all over the country for a change in the Volstead law.

Subject: Henry Ford—After 70 years of experience I can't understand the psychology which makes Henry Ford a candidate for president. Now there is John D. Rockefeller, for instance. He has given $200,000,000 to combat disease, help education and otherwise aid the cause of humanity. And yet he couldn't be elected to any office. But Ford, who has also devoted himself to making money, but has never given away much, is a popular candidate for president."

MARKETS

NEW YORK, June 23.—Today's stock market gave further evidence of the brightening financial community most of the week. While the volume of trading was resting, prices were steady and the attitude of the market as a whole suggested that the confidence in the fundamental soundness of the economic situation had been pretty well restored.
 A further curtailment took place in the volume of dealings in the last half hour, the market closing almost to a standstill before the close.
 Corn products showed the effects of profit-taking on the announcement of a $1.50 extra dividend which had been discontinued by the strength maintained by this issue through the receiver's break.
 Oils displayed a better tone under the lead of California Petroleum, which reached new high ground on the recovery.
 The market closed irregular.
 Closing prices:

 while A. T. and T. sold at 12 1/2, a rally of more than 2 points from its recent low.
 Announcement that United States Rubber at Kelly Springfield had made cuts in the price of tires, had little effect on the stocks of these companies, as the reduction was expected.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

"Stop! Stop!" yelled Tom.

The next stop the Twins made in Choo-Choo land was Mother Goose town.

The very minute they were off the train, up came Simple Simon.

"Hello," he cried. "Got any pigs of wholes for sale?"

"Oh, no," laughed Nancy. "We are not selling anything. We're looking for something."

"So am I," said Simon. "I'm looking for plums on these vines. Are you looking for plums?"

Nancy shook her head. "No, it's a doll we're after. My rag doll's lost."

"Oh, my," said Simon. "That's too bad."

"Oh, we'll probably find her some place in Choo-Choo land," said Nancy brightly. "But as long as we are in Mother Goose town we had better be asking everybody. Oh, who's this coming?"

"It's Tom, Tom the Paper's Son," said Simon. "He's stolen another pig."

After Tom came King Cole, Doctor Foster, Humpty Dumpty and a whole crowd of Mother Goose folk.

Just as Tom reached the pig pen where the Twins were, the pig slipped out of his arms and got away.

"I ran right under Nick and under Nancy, and before they could drop a pin the Twins were already split down the street on a pig's back like cowboys in a wild west show."

"Stop! Stop!" yelled Tom.

"We can't," shouted Nick. "Oh, goodness," gasped Nancy. "She hadn't enough breath left to anything else. All she could do was hold on."

"Oink! Oink! Oink!" went the grunting under his heavy load.

It was long-legged Simple Simon who caught him finally and rescued the twins.

"Look!" he laughed. "I started to catch a whale and landed a pig with a curly tail!"

The Twins hurried back to Choo-Choo train and started for next town.

High Cost of Babies Causes Fall of Birth Rate, Says Minister

CHICAGO, June 23.—It costs too much to live—let alone raise children—Chicago ministers and physicians declared, in attempting to attribute a cause for the decrease in the birth rate of the country, as reported by the bureau of statistics, Washington.

The high cost of living—not the "modern girl" or birth control propaganda—is the chief obstacle to big families, it was agreed.

"It costs more to live now than it used to and the young people are afraid to marry and have children," the Rev. Johnston E. Meyer, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, said.

"There, too, many modern girls are continuing in business after marriage, which is a most regrettable state of affairs. I think modern women are not extravagant, and the 'wild' type of girl is in the minority."

H. N. Bunderson, Chicago health commissioner, himself the father of six children, declared the mother instinct would finally overbalance all birth control propaganda and that only financial difficulties stood in the way of "splendid large families."

"A home is never real without children, and I think our young people realize that," Bunderson said. "The mother instinct is too deep seated ever to be eradicated. There is a certain wildness in modern society, but I believe a decrease in birth rate is due to the high cost of living rather than to that."

Dr. L. D. Moorhead, dean of the Lovola School of Medicine, said the spirit of society and the "key life" of modern youth only added to the burden of the high cost of living and was one of the causes for birth decrease.

"The divorce of moral training from the usual education is a very important factor in causing our young people to shirk responsibilities," Dr. Moorhead said.

BAYARD DODGE TO HEAD BEIRUT

BEIRUT, Syria, June 23.—The auguration of Bayard Dodge as president of the American University of Beirut will take place June 28.

Jewish rabbis, Moslem sheikhs, Greek orthodox priests, the governor and the mayor of Beirut, members of the Grand Lebanon parliament, representatives of the Syrian federal Druze and Arab princes, Kure chiefs, hundreds of alumni and other students from all parts of Syria, Palestine, Mesopotamia, Persia, India, Egypt, the Sudan, and even Malaysia, India, Abyssinia and Siam will compose the most unusual gathering ever assembled in Near East.

The ceremony will take place of doors on the campus overlooking the Mediterranean Sea with Lebanon mountains rising nine thousand feet in the background.

A check for $1000 makes a wedding present, but is expensive. Flies may live as long as five years if not swatted severely.

CHICAGO HEARSE DRIVERS STRIKE; STOP FUNERAL

CHICAGO, June 23.—A funeral procession was stopped temporarily here when the driver of the hearse, a member of local 727 of the Teamsters, Chauffeurs and Stablemen's union, was ordered down by the business agent of the union.

The local is on a strike for an increase in wages to $12 a week if they do not wash their cars and $45 if they do. They are receiving $25.

More than an hour's delay in the funeral was caused before an independent chauffeur was found.
